IMPORTANT INFORMATION

CHANGES TO QUALIFICATIONS

The New Zealand Qualifications Authority (NZQA) directed all tertiary education providers of non-degree certificates and diplomas in New Zealand in a targeted review of qualifications. TCI, as a provider of theological certificates and diplomas, has been included in this review.

The review for the theological sector is now complete and there are new qualifications on the National Qualifications Framework for certificates and diplomas in Christian Studies. The new qualifications will be offered by TCI from 2017 onwards.

What does this mean for TCI?

At present, the NZQA registered qualifications available at TCI have been developed by TCI and are specific to TCI. The new qualifications will be New Zealand Certificates and New Zealand Diplomas and will be available at other theological institutes. TCI has developed programmes of study to match the new qualifications and has applied to NZQA for registration of the new programmes of study. The current (old) qualifications offered by TCI will be taken off the National Qualifications Framework at the beginning of 2019. Although they are no longer on the NQF, they remain valid, accredited qualifications.

TCI has applied to NZQA to register programmes of study and approval to teach the following:

New Zealand Certificate in Christian Studies (Level 5) with strands in:

- Christian Ministry (60 credits)
- Religious Education (80 credits)

And

New Zealand Diploma in Christian Studies (Level 6; 120 credits) with strands in:

- Christian Leadership
- Religious Studies
- Theological Studies
- Pastoral Ministry

A full description of the new qualifications will be available on the TCI website (www.tci.ac.nz/programmes) when TCI obtains NZQA approval.

What does this mean for current students?

For 2017, current students will continue with the programmes of study in which they are enrolled. When the new qualifications are available, students may

- transfer to a new qualification
- or continue with the qualification they enrolled in originally

Students will have until the end of 2018 to complete a current (old) qualification; if this time is insufficient, please contact the Head of Student & Business Support. Students can be assured that they will not be disadvantaged in the transition.

What does this mean for new students?

New students will study for the new qualifications. Please indicate on your enrolment form which qualification you wish to study toward.

You will be enrolled in:

- Certificate of Personal Interest and transferred to your preferred qualification when it is registered.

TCI will be offering a new post-graduate qualification in conjunction with ACU; please contact Prof. Anne Tuohy for more details.

New Qualifications and Course (Paper) Codes and Titles

The codes and names of TCI's courses (papers) will be changing. The content of the courses (papers) will be updated but not substantially different. The reason for the change is that the old codes and titles belong to the old qualifications and the new qualifications require new codes and titles.

So, for example:

RE101 Introduction to Religious Education will become RE501 Religious Education Today.

In the section on course descriptions and in the timetables, both the old and the new codes and titles will be used. We apologise for any confusion this may cause during the transition between the qualifications.
